

DID YOU KNOW?

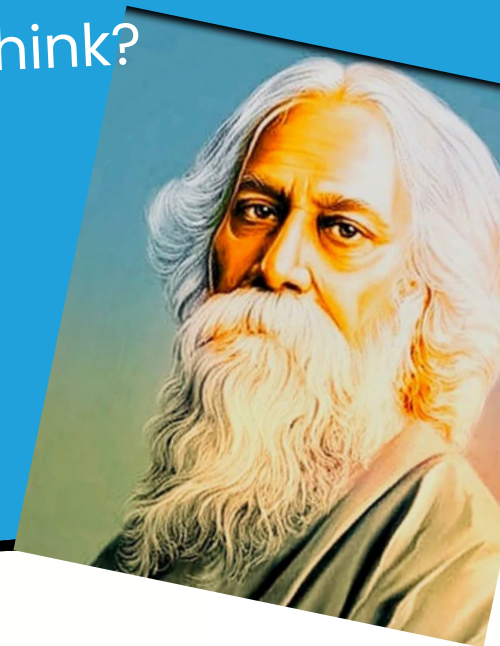

It was once believed that learning only happened inside classrooms. But Rabindranath Tagore imagined something different—learning through nature, creativity, and freedom.

On Rabindranath Tagore Jayanti, we celebrate not just a poet, but a thinker who transformed the way we see education and expression.

What if learning felt joyful and inspiring every day?
How can stories, music, and art shape the way we think?

Let's imagine, create, and express—because every idea has the power to inspire.
