

DID YOU KNOW?

It was once easy to overlook the variety of life around us. But every plant, animal, and organism plays a role in keeping our planet alive.

On International Day for Biological Diversity, we celebrate the rich diversity of life that supports and sustains us.

Why does every species matter?
What happens when this balance is disturbed?
How can we protect the natural world around us?

Explore & Discover More with Britannica Activities!

LEARN MORE

@Britannica Library