The screenshot shows the Merriam-Webster Unabridged website. At the top left is the Merriam-Webster logo and the text 'BRITANNICA DIGITAL LEARNING Unabridged'. On the top right are links for 'Learn More', 'Advanced Search', 'Word of the Day', and 'Style Guide'. A search bar contains the word 'dictionary'. Below the search bar are dropdown menus for 'Reference' (set to 'Unabridged Dictionary') and 'Content Type' (set to 'Main Entry'). A search button with a magnifying glass icon is to the right. Below the search bar, it says '4 entries found for "dictionary" in the Unabridged Dictionary'. Under 'Exact matches:', the word 'dictionary' is listed as a noun. A link 'See all matches containing "dictionary" »' is provided. Below this, there are tabs for 'Unabridged Dictionary', 'Collegiate Dictionary', and 'Collegiate Thesaurus'. The main content area shows the word 'dic·tio·nary' with its phonetic transcription '\ dɪkʃəˌnɛrɪ -ri \' and the definition: 'noun, often attributive'. It lists two main definitions: 1. a reference source in print or electronic form containing words usually alphabetically arranged along with information about their forms, pronunciations, functions, etymologies, meanings, and syntactical and idiomatic uses; and 2. a reference book listing terms or names important to a particular subject or activity along with discussion of their meanings and applications. Examples include 'a general dictionary of the English language', 'a monolingual dictionary', 'a law dictionary', and 'a dictionary of sports'. A note says 'broadly: an encyclopedic listing'. On the right side of the interface, there are sections for 'YOUR RECENT SEARCHES', 'WORD OF THE DAY' (quiddity), and 'NEARBY ENTRIES' (a list of related words like dictatrix, dictature, etc.).
